University of Michigan student and track and field star William DeHart Hubbard became the 1st African American to win a gold medal in an individual olympic event

1924